

Despite in spite of although even though pdf

I'm not robot!

Although, "even though", "despite", and "in spite of" can all be used to express the same thing. In other words, they have the same meaning. "Although" and "even though" are conjunctions, but "despite" and "in spite of" are considered prepositions. But since they are so similar it helps us to study them together. We use these to say that something is surprising, unusual, or unexpected in relation to something else. Even though she studied hard, she failed the test. If she studied hard, then we would expect that she would pass the test. But in this case, the opposite happened. This outcome was unexpected. "Even though" and "although" are used the same way, but "even though" is more common and a little bit stronger. We can put "even though" or "although" at the beginning of a sentence or in the middle of a sentence. Even though + action, + unexpected result Unexpected result + even though + action Even though she isn't big, she is strong. Even though it rained, they went hiking. Even though many unfortunate things happened, they enjoyed their trip. She smiled even though she lost the game. We bought it even though it was really expensive. He quit his job even though he didn't have another job lined up. Although + action, + unexpected result Unexpected Result + although + action Although she is pretty, she doesn't have a boyfriend. Although we discussed it for 5 hours, we didn't make a decision. Although it looks good, it doesn't work well. We will go to the party although we do not know anybody else who is going. It didn't taste good although I followed the recipe. Note: It is more common to use "although" at the beginning of a sentence than in the middle. "Despite" and "in spite of" are prepositions, so they are followed by nouns or gerunds. Despite + noun/gerund, + unexpected result In spite of + noun/gerund, + unexpected result Despite the weather, we went on a picnic. In spite of her age, she ran a full marathon. Despite his injury, he played in the championship game. In spite of their money, they are unhappy. These usually go at the beginning of a sentence, but it is possible to use them in the middle. She is our friend despite her age. She is much younger than us. With these sentences, we usually need to infer or assume something. Despite the weather, we went on a picnic. This sentence does not tell us exactly what the weather was like. But we know that going on a picnic was an unusual thing. So, from this sentence, we can assume that the weather was bad. Here is another example. In spite of their money, they are not happy. We can assume that they have a lot of money. Because we would expect people with money to be happy. But "in spite of" and "despite" are used to show unexpected or surprising things. Practice speaking English and improve your English grammar by finishing the sentences below and then practice making your own sentences. It is an effective way learn English and improve your English fluency! Also, do not forget to try using it in real life. Even though I don't have much time, I want to _____. Even though he is not very smart, he _____. I like her even though _____. She came to work even though _____. I _____ even though _____. Although it will probably rain tomorrow, I will _____. Although it is cold today, _____. Although _____, I like it. Despite _____, I have to _____. I _____ despite _____. In spite of _____, I was able to _____. I won _____ in spite of _____. Изучите следующую ситуацию: Last year Paul and Joanne had a holiday by the sea. It rained a lot, but they enjoyed themselves. Год назад Пол и Джоанна были в отпуске у моря. Часто шёл дождь, но они хорошо провели время. Вы можете сказать: Although it rained a lot, they enjoyed themselves. (= It rained a lot, but they ...) Несмотря на то, что часто шёл дождь, они хорошо провели время. или the rain, they enjoyed themselves. После although (хотя; несмотря на то, что) мы используем подлежащее + сказуемое: Although it rained a lot, we enjoyed our holiday. I didn't get the job although I had the necessary qualifications. Я не получил работу, хотя обладал необходимой квалификацией. Сравните значение although и because: We went out although it was raining. Мы пошли гулять несмотря на то, что шел дождь. We didn't go out because it was raining. Мы не пошли гулять, потому что шел дождь. После in spite of или despite (= несмотря на), мы используем существительное, местоимение (this/that/what и др.) или -ing: In spite of the rain, we enjoyed our holiday. I didn't get the job in spite of having the necessary qualifications. She wasn't well, but in spite of this she went to work. Она нехорошо себя чувствовала, но несмотря на это она пошла на работу. In spite of what I said yesterday, I still love you. Несмотря на то, что я вчера сказал, я по-прежнему тебя люблю. Despite это то же, что и in spite of. Мы говорим in spite of, no despite (без of): She wasn't well, but despite this she went to work. (not despite of this) Вы можете сказать in spite of the fact (that) ... и despite the fact (that) ... : I didn't get the job in spite of the fact (that) I had the necessary qualifications. I didn't get the job despite the fact (that) I had the necessary qualifications. Сравните in spite of и because of: We went out in spite of the rain. (or ... despite the rain. - несмотря на дождь) We didn't go out because of the rain. (из-за дождя) Сравните although и in spite of / despite: Although the traffic was bad, we arrived on time. (not In spite of the traffic was bad) In spite of the traffic, we arrived on time. Несмотря на пробки, мы прибыли вовремя. I couldn't sleep although I was very tired. (not despite I was tired) I couldn't sleep despite being very tired. Я не мог уснуть несмотря на то, что очень устал. Иногда мы используем though вместо although: I didn't get the job though I had the necessary qualifications. В разговорном английском мы часто используем though в конце предложения: The house isn't very nice, I like the garden though. (= but I like the garden) Дом не очень хороший, хотя сад мне нравится. I see them every day. I've never spoken to them though. (= but I've never spoken to them) Я вижу их каждый день, хотя никогда с ними не разговаривал. Even though (но не просто 'even') - более сильная форма, чем although: Even though I was really tired, I couldn't sleep. (not Even I was really tired ...) Даже не смотря на то, что я очень устал, я не мог уснуть. Упражнения 1. Закончите предложения. Используйте although + предложение из рамочки. I didn't speak the language I had never seen her before it was quite cold I'd met her twice before he has a very important job we don't like them very much the heating was on we've known each other a long time 2. Закончите предложения, выбрав although / in spite of / because / because of. 3. Составьте одно предложение из двух. Используйте слова в скобках в своих предложениях. 4. Используйте слова в скобках, чтобы составить предложение с though на конце. Только зарегистрированные пользователи могут добавлять комментарии.
